

Widow oil jar

- Print out the jars front and back.
- Trace the black outlined jar with Elmers glue and let it dry completely. The glue should be clear.
- Then, turn the paper over to color the back of the picture (the backwards words) with markers.
- Decorate the front of the jar (without words) with the gems. Use baby oil or another light oil and a sponge paintbrush to paint the front of the paper (without words) using a little oil.
- Then watch the colors from the back of the page come through to the front.
